Dear Dr. Lederberg:

Professor Ti-chow Tung (noted Embryologist and a Vice President of Academia Sinica) and I on behalf of Chinese Society of Zoologists and American Society For Developmental Biology respectively are organizing the second International Symposium on RNA in Development. We plan to hold the Symposium in Peking, China during the last week of April, 1980. It gives us great pleasure to invite you to deliver a lecture on the subject of your choice in area of Genetics and Developmental Biology. This will be a special lecture and I am sure that it will draw a large number of attendance. ✓

We hope to raise the necessary funds covering the travel expences of all invited speakers from abroad.

With warmest regards and personal respect.

Sincerely yours

Man Chiang

M. C. Niu, Professor and
CO-Chairperson of the Symposium-
The Role Of RNA in Development.
